

Choose one of the extracts and use it as the beginning or end of a story. You are free to use any form of storytelling you like (e.g. dialogue, comic strip, straight text, illustrated text, poetry, recorded sound, songwriting, diagrams etc.). The aim is to integrate the picture/scene/situation into your own narrative as convincingly as possible.

There will come soft rains. Ray Bradbury. Dessin de Wallace Wood. © 1952, William M. Gaines

Judgment Day. Joe Orlando. © 1953, William M. Gaines